YESTERDAY'S FIRE,—Shortly after 2 o'clock yesterday afternoon the roof of Fred. Husemen's livery stable, on Main street, between 14th and 15th streets, was discovered to be on fire. All the horses, vehicles and harness were immediately taken out of the building. The fire engines were promptly on hand, but their services were not needed, as the fire had been extinguished before their arrival. Workmen were engaged in putting a

The loungers about the hotel office hearing the report of a pistol, ran into the ball, and found Martin lying on the floor shot through and through the head and a still-smoking pistol by his aide. Medical aid was and through the head and a still-smoking pistol by his aide. Medical aid was immediately summoned, but nothing could be done for the wounded man, and in a few minutes he breathed his last. His wife and sister were sent for, who arrived a few minutes before he died. The grief of the stricken ones was very touching to behold, and many eyes grew dim at the sight. Upon searching the pockets of the dead man two letters were found, one addressed to his wife, in care of James Doyle, and the other to Mayor Oliver. They furnish but little evidence as to the cause of the deed. The letter to his wife reads thus:

STRUERNYILLE, O., Dec. 14, 1875.

STEUBENVILLE, O., Dec. 14, 1875.

My Dear Wije:
This is the last you will hear from me until you see me dead. Good bye.
The other letter was somewhat difficult to decipher, but was made out as follows:

AFTERNOON SESSION.

APTERNOON SESSION.

The weather having moderated somewhat and the sun come out bright and cheery, there was a much larger audience at the reassembling of the convention, especially in the number of ladies.

The minutes of the previous meeting were read and approved. Mr. Hornbrook, chairman of the Committee on Permanent Organization, presented the report of the committee. It recommended the following officers: President, Rev. J. G. Armstrong, of Wheeling; Klee Presidents, Rev. J. McK. Reiley, Capt. John McLure, of Wheeling; Hon. Charles F. Scott, of Ritchie; Hon. J. H. Atkinson, of New Cumberland; James H. Grove, of Jefferson; James D. Ewing, of Marshall; Hon. F. H. Pierpoint, of Fairmont; Julius Frentel, of Cabelt; Hon. W. E. Stevenson, of Woeling, Assistant Secretary, Wm. A. Strickler, of Ritchie; Trenaurer, Thomas Hornbrook, of Wheeling. The report was unanimously adopted.

not yet ready to report, but would do so this morning.

Dr. Reiley moved that the regular order of business, viz: the discussion of "Total abstinence vs. moderate drinking," be suspended in order to hear from persons from a distance concerning the progress of the temperance cause.

Mr. Greer, of Triadelphia, being called upon, stated that temperance affairs in his neighborhood had been in statu quo for more than a year, and that as he had nothing interesting to report from his district he would give place to those who had.

Rev. A. Hall, of Parkersburg, stated that the ministry and other friends of temperance in his city were carnestly and perseveringly at work, and that good results were apparent.

Rev. W. W. Hunter, editor of the Pittsburgh Christian Advocate, made a few remarks in reference to the National Temperence Convention held at Chicago. He also stated that he was equally interested in the progress of temperance in Ohio and Pennsylvania, living in one State and laboring in another; that there had been since the repeal of the local option law in the latter State a terrible increase in intemperance; and concluded his remarks by earnestly advocating the enactment of a prohibitory law.

Dr. Watkins, of Pennsylvania, stated that, although temperance people had lost ground in that State, yet there was no lack of interest in the temperance case, and that they intended to push things until what was lost had been restored.

Mr. Carskadon, of Mineral county, made some interesting remarks concerning temperance people and temperance affairs in his community.

The following preamble and resolutions were read by Mr. C. C. B. Duncan, which were referred to the Committee on Resolutions.

President Armstrong made an a dress of some length in his peculiarly clear and forcible style. He said that when a man was prosperous in his business relations, surrounded by all the comforts which were necessary to his happiness, and enjoying the blessings of health, he could be a moderate drinker and yet maintain his honorable position. But when reverses came, when some cherished lifehope was destroyed, the man's spirit was broken, and he would become a drunkard. He showed that the customs of the Germans in the matter of drinking could not become prevalent in America and the same results ensue. A German, with his phlegmatic nature, or rather metaphysical peculiarities, could drink with impunity an amount of liquor that would make drunk an American, with his nervous, excitable, go-ahead temperament. He concluded by saying that he wished to enter into no wholesale denunciation of moderate drinkers, but warned them that they were treading upon dan-

The choir of the Disciples' Church occupied a position to the left of the stage, and after the reading of the minutes and at other times during the proceedings favored the audience with some excelent and artistic music, singing as the first piece "Come, Holy Spirit."

The first topic of discussion was announced to be "The relation of politics to temperance."

And he would say to the ladies and gentlemen present that he could get more money from men outside the church than he could get from men inside of it. [Tremendous applause.]

Mr. Reiley moved that the question before the convention be referred to the Committe on Resolutions. Passed.

Mr. McCure defined the terms "total abstinence" and "moderate drinking" in a very exhaustive manner, saying that it was very hard to draw the line of demarkation between moderate and excessive drinking. He maintained that with very rare exceptions indeed the moderate drinkers and filled drunkards' graves, and the only are an aside plan was total abstinence—to the absolute and entire refraining from all that intoxicates.

Dr. McCoy expressed his emphatic and unqualified endorsement of Rev. Mr. McCure's entiments.
